

25 November 2015

Seungho Han (Korea), UNV Environment Specialist with UNDP, photographs the opening ceremony for a new hydropower system at Houay Ngou, Lao PDR (UNV, 2011)

ENGLISH

Overview

UNV and the Republic of Korea: Promoting volunteering for peace and development

This publication highlights the long-standing partnership between UNV and the Republic of Korea, the contribution of Korean UN Volunteers, as well as some key data.

UNV partners at governmental and non-governmental level with the Republic of Korea to advance peace and development. UNV promotes university-level volunteering in partnership with leading universities in Europe, and the successful Online Volunteering service that opens up possibilities for young people to volunteer off-site through the internet. This publication highlights the long-standing partnership between UNV and the Republic of Korea, the contribution of Korean UN Volunteers, as well as some key data.

Sustainable Development Goal: