UNV Service Lines

UN Volunteers enhance monitoring and evaluation capacity, support elections and large-scale events, and are a rapid response solution to global health emergencies. Consultations with UN and national partners led to the establishment of UNV Service Lines.

UNV Service Lines embody a set of standardized assignments dedicated to provide services across multiple countries. They leverage existing UN Volunteer modalities and initiatives to formulate standard Descriptions of Assignments. A service line package can include mixed teams of international/national UN Volunteers, UN Youth Volunteers and UN Online Volunteers, identification of highly qualified candidates, common induction/training, joint resource mobilization efforts and integration into global, regional and multi-country programmes. UNV offers the following:
• Service Line - UN Volunteers enhance monitoring and evaluation capacity
• Service Line - UN Volunteers for electoral support
• Service Line - UN Volunteers for international and national events
• Service Line - UN Volunteers in support of the UN Resident Coordinator system
• Service Line - UN Volunteers deployment at headquarters duty stations
• Service Line - UN Volunteers as a rapid response solution to global health emergencies
