

20 November 1997

UNGA Resolution 52/17: Declaration of 2001 as International Year of Volunteers

This UN General Assembly resolution (A/RES/52/17), adopted 20 November 1997, declaring 2001 the International Year of Volunteers designated the United Nations Volunteers (UNV) programme, the volunteer arm of the UN, as the focal point. The objectives of the Year are increased promotion, recognition, facilitation and networking of voluntary action worldwide. The resolution was co-sponsored by 123 countries.

Sustainable Development Goal: