

Engaging with UNV

ONLINE VOLUNTEERING FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR

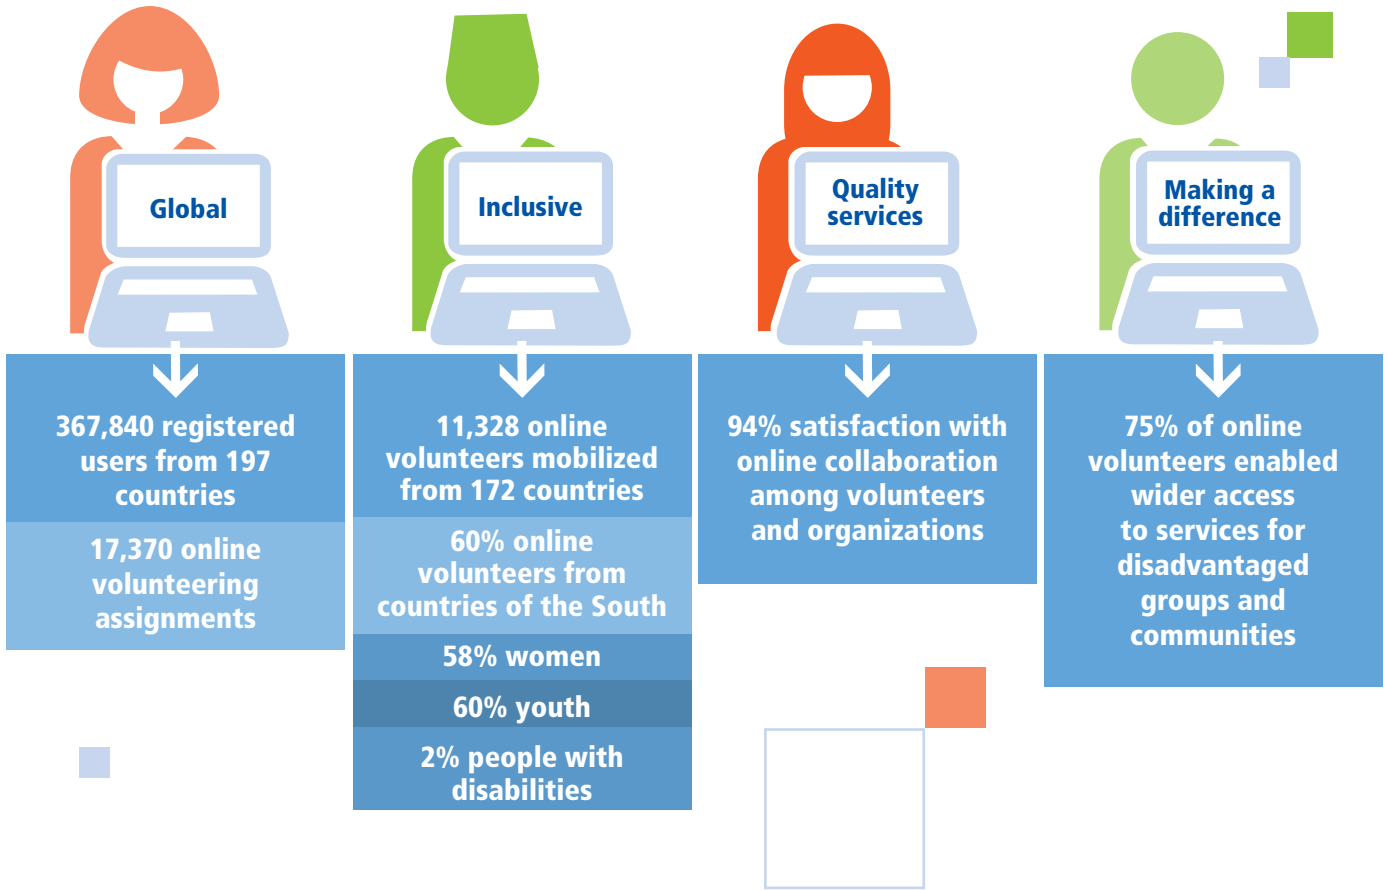

The United Nations Volunteers (UNV) programme works to harness the power of volunteers and volunteerism in support of global peace and development. The UNV Online Volunteering service connects development organizations with volunteers through the Internet to help address peace and development challenges and strengthen the impact of organizations' work. Since its creation in 2000, the UNV Online Volunteering service has grown steadily: in 2013, UNV mobilized over 11,000 UN Online Volunteers serving United Nations entities, civil society organizations and public institutions in highly specialized and flexible ways.

Through its Online Volunteering service, UNV offers the private sector a contemporary and modern tool to demonstrate corporate social responsibility, allowing employees to connect with a social cause from wherever they are and to contribute to tackling global challenges while pursuing a demanding career.

UNV (February 2015)

The United Nations Volunteers (UNV) programme is the UN organization that promotes volunteerism to support peace and development worldwide. Volunteerism can transform the pace and nature of development and it benefits both society at large and the individual volunteer. UNV contributes to peace and development by advocating for volunteerism globally, encouraging partners to integrate volunteerism into development programming and mobilizing volunteers.

UNV is administered by the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).
