

UNV Offer of Support to the UN System in emergency response in Ukraine

The United Nations Volunteers (UNV) programme is ready to support United Nations partners in their emergency response to the war in Ukraine. UNV deploys UN Volunteers (onsite) as well as Online Volunteers, both in Ukraine and in the neighboring countries including in Hungary, Moldova, Poland, Romania, and Slovakia to support your operations in priority areas.

UNV also facilitates direct recruitment and/or re-assignments of currently serving UN Volunteers.

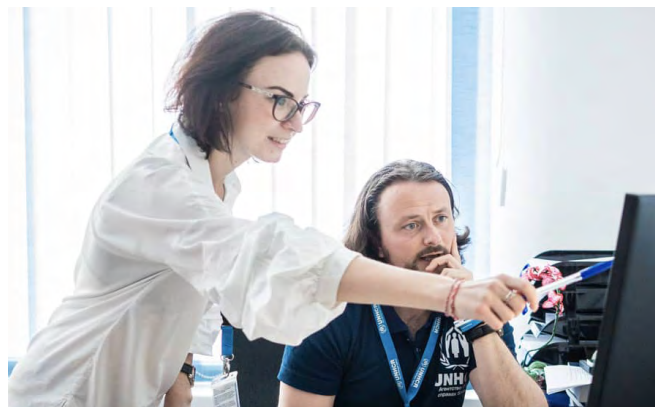

Available UN Volunteer Profiles¹ include

- Emergency response, immediate relief operations, protection of internally displaced persons
- Cross-border humanitarian aid operations, refugee support
- Humanitarian affairs, coordination, and information management
- Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH)
- Food safety and nutrition, livelihoods
- Medical and nursing services, including mental health and psycho-social support
- Child protection
- Communication, knowledge management, public information, and reporting
- Logistics and supply management, procurement
- Resource mobilization, partnership, and donor coordination
- Programme implementation, management, and development
- Civil engineering and construction supervision
- Administrative, finance and HR support
- Other areas

How to Deploy UN Volunteers

To start off the recruitment process, UNV only requires a Description of Assignment (DOA – akin TOR) and confirmation of funding. DOA templates and other information are available online in our UN Partner Toolkit (see this page under “DOA, Templates and Forms”).

¹ This list is not exhaustive – contact UNV with specific needs and requests

Speed, Flexibility, Impact and Value

Speed: Deployment speed depends on specificities of profiles required but can be as short as two weeks from the provision of the DOA and funding confirmation.

Flexibility: UNV offers a wide variety of UN Volunteers categories (national and international), representing over 100 different professional categories. UNV also offers Online Volunteers for task-based, short-term assignments in areas such as analysis, data collection, graphic design, translation and more.

Impact: National UN Volunteers can be deployed quickly to leverage their local networks to support efficient responses. International UN Volunteers can provide expertise and added capacity in a range of languages.

Value: UN Volunteers receive a comprehensive benefits and entitlements package including monthly living allowance; relocation support; health, life, and permanent disability insurance; and family allowances when relevant.
