

UN VOLUNTEER DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENT

FJIR000135--Information Management Officer (IMO)

Le programme des Volontaires des Nations Unies (VNU) est au sein des Nations Unies l'organisation qui, au niveau mondial, est chargée de promouvoir le volontariat pour la Paix et le Développement. Le volontariat profite à la fois à l'ensemble de la société et à la personne qui se porte volontaire. Les Volontaires des Nations Unies contribuent à la paix et au développement en faisant du plaidoyer pour le volontariat en général, en encourageant les partenaires à intégrer le volontariat dans leurs programmes de développement et en mobilisant des volontaires. Dans la plupart des cultures, le volontariat est profondément ancré et établi dans les sociétés avec la tradition de partage et d'entraide au sein des communautés. A cet égard, les Volontaires des Nations Unies prennent part aux différentes formes de volontariat et joue un rôle important pour le développement et la paix en collaboration avec les partenaires, les agences hôtes et les communautés locales. Durant toute leur affectation, les Volontaires des Nations Unies font la promotion du volontariat à travers leur action et leur conduite. S'engager dans les activités volontaires peut effectivement et positivement enrichir leur compréhension des réalités sociales et locales, aussi bien que créer un pont entre eux-mêmes et les personnes dans leur communauté d'accueil. Ceci rend le temps qu'ils dépensent en tant que volontaire plus valorisant et productif.

of people across the globe, within countries and across borders. Such restrictions make it very difficult for international UN Volunteers to begin their assignments at their assigned duty station and UNV cannot guarantee assignments will proceed as normal.

Candidates for international UN Volunteer assignments during this period may be exceptionally granted alternative working arrangements to work from their place of recruitment until restrictions are lifted. This is at the discretion of the host entity. Candidates proceeding to interview are recommended to discuss the likelihood of travel and possible alternative arrangements with the host entity. If selected, candidates should carefully consider the circumstances before accepting UNV's offer.

In cases where the UN Host Entity partner has requested the UN Volunteer to perform their assignment remotely, the Post Adjustment Multiplier (PAM) and related entitlements to be paid may be adjusted to the temporary duty station from where the UN Volunteer has been requested to work if requested by the UN Host Entity.

The contract lasts for the period indicated above with possibility of extensions subject to availability of funding, operational necessity and satisfactory performance. However, there is no expectation of renewal of the assignment.

A UN Volunteer receives a Volunteer Living Allowance (VLA) which is composed of the Monthly Living Allowance (MLA) and a Family Allowance (FA) for those with dependents (maximum three).

The Volunteer Living Allowance (VLA) is paid at the end of each month to cover housing, utilities, transportation, communications and other basic needs. The VLA can be computed by applying the Post-Adjustment Multiplier (PAM) to the VLA base rate of US$ 1,682. The VLA base rate is a global rate across the world, while the PAM is duty station/country-specific and fluctuates on a monthly basis according to the cost of living. This method ensures that international UN Volunteers have comparable purchasing power at all duty stations irrespective of varying costs of living. The PAM is established by the International Civil Service Commission (ICSC) and is published at the beginning of every month on the ICSC website <http://icsc.un.org>.

For UN Volunteer entitlements, kindly refer to the link <https://vmam.unv.org/calculator/entitlements>

In non-family duty stations that belong to hardship categories D or E, as classified by the ICSC, international UN Volunteers receive a Well-Being Differential (WBD) on a monthly basis.

Furthermore, UN Volunteers are provided a settling-in-grant (SIG) at the start of the assignment (if the volunteer did not reside in the duty station for at least 6 months prior to taking up the assignment) and in the event of a permanent reassignment to another duty station.

UNV provides life, health, permanent disability insurances as well as assignment travel, annual leave, full integration in the UN security framework (including residential security reimbursements).

UN Volunteers are paid Daily Subsistence Allowance at the UN rate for official travels, flight tickets for periodic home visit and for the final repatriation travel (if applicable). Resettlement allowance is paid for satisfactory service at the end of the assignment.

UNV will provide, together with the offer of assignment, a copy of the Conditions of Service, including Code of conduct, to the successful candidate.
