

UN VOLUNTEER DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENT

LKAR000360--Community Volunteer Development Coordinator- Galle

The United Nations Volunteers (UNV) programme is the UN organization that promotes volunteerism to support peace and development worldwide. Volunteerism can transform the pace and nature of development and it benefits both society at large and the individual volunteer. UNV contributes to peace and development by advocating for volunteerism globally, encouraging partners to integrate volunteerism into development programming, and mobilizing volunteers. In most cultures volunteerism is deeply embedded in long-established, ancient traditions of sharing and support within the communities. In this context, UN Volunteers take part in various forms of volunteerism and play a role in development and peace together with co-workers, host agencies and local communities. In all assignments, UN Volunteers promote volunteerism through their action and conduct. Engaging in volunteer activity can effectively and positively enrich their understanding of local and social realities, as well as create a bridge between themselves and the people in their host community. This will make the time they spend as UN Volunteers even more rewarding and productive.

Organizational Context & Project Description

The United Nations Peacebuilding Fund (PBF) was established by the UN Secretary General in October 2006, following a request from the General Assembly and the Security Council. With the primary aim of preventing a relapse into violent conflict, the PBF is currently providing fast, flexible, and relevant funding to over 20 countries. UNV along with WHO and UNDP developed a project titled "Youth Participation and Engagement for a Healthier, Equitable, Safer and United Sri Lanka," which will leverage volunteer networks for aims to improve access to opportunities for young aspiring leaders to meaningfully engage in promoting social cohesion and development that will enhance their political and civic representation and thereby address the issues of trust and lack of recognition they receive as leaders in their own communities.

Young people are valuable innovators and agents of change, and their contributions should be actively supported, solicited, and regarded as essential to building peaceful communities and supporting democratic governance and transition. Moreover, young people's participation promotes civic engagement and active citizenship. UNV will work to promote inter-ethnic relations and the art of leading collectively through meaningful volunteer engagement and capacity development of youth parliamentarians, selected youth-led/focused organizations. This will include developing the leadership potential of youth to support young men and women's potential as positive agents of change in their respective communities. Moreover, the project will aim at strengthening of Volunteer Involving Organizations (VIOs), Civil Society Organizations and Community Based Youth Organizations to enhance programming and volunteer mobilization, as well as the mobilization of young people to strengthen social cohesion.
