Kathmandu is categorized as a B duty station. Living conditions are overall good. Comfortable inexpensive flats (furnished and unfurnished) are available in Kathmandu. Both imported and local foods and clothing are available. There is a wide variety of restaurants, coffee shops, and places to socialize. Both air pollution and water quality are an issue; only filtered water should be drunk, and many people chose to wear a filter mask when venturing out into trafficked areas.

Public transport is easily available and taxis are numerous and inexpensive. There are several hospitals/clinics, which are of acceptable quality; for serious conditions or surgeries the UN recommends medical evacuation to Bangkok. Crime is low. As such the main dangers come from traffic related accidents and the risk of earthquakes. UN staff, including UNVs, are required to have a ‘go-bag’ with emergency equipment, are provided with security training, and are equipped with a hand held radio in case of emergency. Power cuts can be an issue, especially during the winter, although there have been improvements on this front in recent years. Most houses and apartments are equipped with inverters, solar panels, or both. Kathmandu has a temperate climate with coldest temperature reaching just above zero at night during the winter and mild but humid during the monsoon period, mid-June to end September. Due to poor housing insulation and power cuts, it can get very cold inside during the winters. Nepal has unlimited outdoor sports and trekking opportunities, a vibrant and fascinating cultural life, and excellent travel opportunities.

Nepal is undergoing a period of transition and while it has faced myriad obstacles over the last 20 years, it has made significant development progress. Emerging after a decade-long conflict and two devastating earthquakes, Nepal now looks forward to achieving the Sustainable Development Goals, implementing its newly promulgated Constitution and ensuring no one is left behind.

The United Nations Development Assistance Framework (UNDAF) 2018-2022 sets out the UN partnership aiming to support Nepal as it makes progress on its development agenda over the next five years. At the core of this new UNDAF are the SDGs, the Government of Nepal’s Fourteenth Plan, and international commitments and norms to which Nepal is a party.

The four UNDAF outcomes weave together linked thematic areas: 1) Sustainable and Inclusive Economic Growth; 2) Social Development; 3) Resilience, Disaster Risk Reduction and Climate Change; and 4) Governance, Rule of Law and Human Rights.

Through this work, the Youth UNV will interact extensively with colleagues from different UN Agencies, including the Resident Coordinator’s office. The Youth UNV will also have exposure to Youth volunteer organizations and will have opportunities to engage in promotion of volunteerism activities and programmes.

Under the direct supervision of the Deputy Representative, the UNV will undertake the following tasks:

- Assist the Government of Nepal to update and/or develop key policy frameworks and action plans, including the Action Plan on Youth, Peace and Security as per UNSCR 2250 and the new National Youth Policy;
• Support the provincial and local authorities to realize their vision for young people under the new constitution and federalism through an enabling policy and youth friendly planning environment;
• Support the engagement and mobilization of youth groups and networks and interventions that enable them to participate in policy decisions and plans that concern them and their communities;
• Develop a strategy for UNFPA in consultation with stakeholders to strengthen the focus on adolescents and youth as well as inter-sectoral coordination across the 8th Country Programme;
• Undertake desk based review and support research to better understand the challenges faced by young people and interventions that safeguard their future within UNFPA’s mandate;
• Contribute to the UN inter-agency and development partners coordination meetings and initiatives related to youth development, peace and security, federalism and help conceptualize new areas of partnership and collaboration with key stakeholders;
• Contribute to knowledge share and learning within UNFPA by helping to conduct learning sessions, sharing of research and knowledge, documentation of best practices;
• Support other related tasks, as required.

En plus de ce qui précède, les Volontaires des Nations Unies sont censés :
• Renforcer leurs connaissances et compréhension du concept du volontariat en lisant la documentation mise à disposition par le programme VNU, les publications externes et prendre activement part aux activités du programme VNU, par exemple s’impliquer dans les activités commémoratives de la Journée internationale des Volontaires (JIV), le 5 décembre.
• Se familiariser et développer toute forme de volontariat traditionnel et/ou local au niveau du pays d’accueil.
• Refléter le type et la nature des actions volontaires qu’ils entreprennent, y compris leur participation dans les réflexions substantielles.
• Contribuer à la rédaction des articles sur les expériences de terrain à soumettre pour la publication du programme VNU/ site web, bulletin et notes de presse, etc.
• Contribuer au Programme d’accueil des Volontaires des Nations Unies nouvellement arrivés dans le pays d’affectation ;
• Promouvoir ou conseiller les groupes locaux dans l’utilisation des volontaires en ligne ou encourager les individus et les organisations à utiliser les services de volontaires en ligne quand cela est techniquement possible.

Résultats / résultats attendus
• The development of capacity through coaching, mentoring and formal on-the-job training, when working with (including supervising) national staff or (non-) governmental counter-parts, including Implementing Partners (IPs);
• Age, Gender and Diversity (AGD) perspective is systematically applied, integrated and documented in all activities throughout the assignment
• A final statement of achievements towards volunteerism for peace and development during the assignment, such as reporting on the number of volunteers mobilized, activities participated in and capacities developed

We are inspiration in action

The United Nations Volunteers (UNV) programme is administrated by the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).
Conditions of Service for International Specialist:

The contract lasts for the period indicated above with possibility of extensions subject to availability of funding, operational necessity and satisfactory performance. However, there is no expectation of renewal of the assignment.

A UN Volunteer receives a Volunteer Living Allowance (VLA) which is composed of the Monthly Living Allowance (MLA) and a Family Allowance (FA) for those with dependents (maximum three).

The Volunteer Living Allowance (VLA) is paid at the end of each month to cover housing, utilities, transportation, communications and other basic needs. The VLA can be computed by applying the Post-Adjustment Multiplier (PAM) to the VLA base rate of US$ 1,631. The VLA base rate is a global rate across the world, while the PAM is duty station/country-specific and fluctuates on a monthly basis according to the cost of living. This method ensures that international UN Volunteers have comparable purchasing power at all duty stations irrespective of varying costs of living. The PAM is established by the International Civil Service Commission (ICSC) and is published at the beginning of every month on the ICSC website http://icsc.un.org.

For UN Volunteer entitlements, kindly refer to the link https://vmam.unv.org/calculator/entitlements

In non-family duty stations that belong to hardship categories D or E, as classified by the ICSC, international UN Volunteers receive a Well-Being Differential (WBD) on a monthly basis.

Furthermore, UN Volunteers are provided a settling-in-grant (SIG) at the start of the assignment (if the volunteer did not reside in the duty station for at least 6 months prior to taking up the assignment) and in the event of a permanent reassignment to another duty station.

UNV provides life, health, permanent disability insurances as well as assignment travel, annual leave, full integration in the UN security framework (including residential security reimbursements).

UN Volunteers are paid Daily Subsistence Allowance at the UN rate for official travels, flight tickets for periodic home visit and for the final repatriation travel (if applicable). Resettlement allowance is paid for satisfactory service at the end of the assignment.

UNV will provide, together with the offer of assignment, a copy of the Conditions of Service, including Code of conduct, to the successful candidate.
Supervision, induction and duty of care of UN Volunteers

UN Volunteers should be provided equal duty of care as extended to all host entity personnel. Host entity support to the UN Volunteer includes, but is not limited to:

- Introductory briefings about the organisation and office-related context including security, emergency procedures, good cultural practice and orientation to the local environment;

- Support with arrival administration including setting-up of bank accounts, residence permit applications and completion of other official processes as required by the host government or host entity;

- Structured guidance, mentoring and coaching by a supervisor including a clear workplan and performance appraisal;

- Access to office space, equipment, IT support and any other systems and tools required to complete the objectives of the assignment including a host entity email address;

- Access to shared host entity corporate knowledge, training and learning;

- Inclusion of the volunteer in emergency procedures such as evacuations;

- Leave management;

- DSA for official travel, when applicable;

- All changes in the Description of Assignment occurring between recruitment and arrival or during the assignment need to be formalized with the United Nations Volunteer Programme.
