Conditions de vie

Khartoum is the capital and trading center of Sudan and is situated in Khartoum State, at the junction of the Blue and White Nile rivers. Omdurman is also a suburb of Khartoum, giving the urban area a population of over 5 million. It has long served as a major communications center between the Arab countries of North Africa and central African countries. Arabic, the official language, is the mother tongue of about half the population. English is used widely.

The electricity supply is generally good in Khartoum, although most buildings and houses in the city have stand-by generators as there are regular power cuts in particular during summer. The current is 220V/50 cycles AC. Electricity is metered, and credits are purchased from the electricity office, check your meter regularly.

Khartoum is classified as a family duty station (C – in the UNHCR system), with a good level of services, accommodation and facilities. It is a relatively safe environment sometimes marked by small criminality or anti-western public demonstrations. MORSS compliance is required. The cost of living may be high, depending on the standards, particularly for food and accommodation.

There are few health facilities available, and it is advised that the UN doctor (at the UNDP Office in Khartoum) be consulted before going to private doctors. It is highly recommended that staff makes a comprehensive medical check before traveling to Sudan.

Sudan is a unique country and Sudan is a unique (humanitarian) operation. It provides for an interesting and enriching environment, but also requires a mature level of cultural awareness, as well as more stamina and commitment than elsewhere to make life comfortable and affordable. Therefore, flexibility and the ability and willingness to live and work in harsh and potentially hazardous conditions, involving physical hardship and little comfort, are essential.
