Conditions de vie

South Sudan is a hardship duty station, which is classified as a non-family duty station as there is basic infrastructure in the capital Juba and the country. The highly recommended vaccination in South Sudan is Yellow Fever. Please note that without evidence of yellow fever vaccination, access to South Sudan is restricted. South Sudan is a Security Phase III level. There is a UN imposed curfew from 7:00pm to 6:00am due to security and crime.

All the International UN Volunteers upon arrival, will be housed in one of the two UNDP compounds.
Although services are not fully developed, banking facilities, UN and private medical facilities, and telecommunications/internet services are readily available. UN Agencies, Funds and Programme’s personnel are provided medical services in the UN Agency clinic. Other medical services can be obtained at the UNMISS Level II hospital.

The political context of South Sudan remains hopeful with the formation of the Revitalized Transitional Government of National Unity expected in Feb 2020.

The widely used currency for business transition in the South Sudan Pounds (SSP). The official exchange is currently at 180 SSP to the USD. Banking facilities are widely available, but the use of bank credit and debit cards is limited.

There are several mobile telephone companies including ZAIN and MTN providing services and sim cards can be easily bought with cash after registration by the service provider. There are no fixed telephone lines in South Sudan/Juba.

South Sudan electricity on the national grid is almost non-existent as it switched on once in a while. The capital Juba is powered by individual household generators, but City power are underway almost to its completion. Running water is dependent on water tankers that deliver water to households at a fee. UN regulations state that houses of staff members must have electricity and reimburses these costs incurred outside the accommodation rental cost.

There are restaurants serving food from different regions of the world. Markets and shops are fairly well stocked with food items, clothes and other household goods. There are also local markets for vegetables and other farm produces. The cost of living is generally high as almost all the goods are imported. UN personnel are provided medical services in the UN Agency clinic Other medical services can be obtained at the UNMISS Level 2 hospital.

South Sudan is a unique country. It provides for an interesting and enriching environment, but also requires a mature level of cultural awareness, as well as more stamina and commitment than elsewhere to make life comfortable and affordable. Therefore, flexibility and the ability and willingness to live and work in harsh and potentially hazardous conditions, involving physical hardship and little comfort, are essential.

Détails sur l'Affectation

Titre de l'Affectation

Project Engineer

Contexte organisationnel & description du projet

UNDP has been working in South Sudan for over 30 Plus years. With the formation of the independent Republic of South Sudan in July 2011, UNDP established a Country Office and has staff working all over the country to help build government institutions. UNDP has maintained its presence in South Sudan despite significant challenges in the operating environment by adopting a flexible approach to its work.
Since the conclusion of the Agreement on the Resolution of Conflict in August 2015, UNDP aims to work in partnership with the Transitional Government of National Unity, non-governmental organizations, civil society organizations, community-based organizations, multilateral aid agencies, bilateral donors, academia, media and the private sector.

The overarching aim of UNDP is to support the progress towards peace and reconciliation, early recovery and governance, and towards the new Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

UNDP in South Sudan focuses its programmes on democratic governance and stabilization; human development and inclusive growth; and gender equality and women’s empowerment. UNDP aims to work in partnership with the Transitional Government of National Unity, non-governmental organisations, civil society organisations, community-based organisations, multilateral aid agencies, bilateral donors, academia, media and the private sector, providing policy advice, technical support, advocacy and contributions to strengthen real improvements in the lives of South Sudanese people.

The Project Engineer reports directly to the Chief Technical Advisor, Rule of Law and Program Manager. Conditions of Service for International Specialist:

The contract lasts for the period indicated above with possibility of extensions subject to availability of funding, operational necessity and satisfactory performance. However, there is no expectation of renewal of the assignment.

A UN Volunteer receives a Volunteer Living Allowance (VLA) which is composed of the Monthly Living Allowance (MLA) and a Family Allowance (FA) for those with dependents (maximum three).

The Volunteer Living Allowance (VLA) is paid at the end of each month to cover housing, utilities, transportation, communications and other basic needs. The VLA can be computed by applying the Post-Adjustment Multiplier (PAM) to the VLA base rate of US$ 1,631. The VLA base rate is a global rate across the world, while the PAM is duty station/country-specific and fluctuates on a monthly basis according to the cost of living. This method ensures that international UN Volunteers have comparable purchasing power at all duty stations irrespective of varying costs of living. The PAM is established by the International Civil Service Commission (ICSC) and is published at the beginning of every month on the ICSC website http://icsc.un.org.

For UN Volunteer entitlements, kindly refer to the link https://vmam.unv.org/calculator/entitlements

In non-family duty stations that belong to hardship categories D or E, as classified by the ICSC, international UN Volunteers receive a Well-Being Differential (WBD) on a monthly basis.

Furthermore, UN Volunteers are provided a settling-in-grant (SIG) at the start of the assignment (if the volunteer did not reside in the duty station for at least 6 months prior to taking up the assignment) and in the event of a permanent reassignment to another duty station.

UNV provides life, health, permanent disability insurances as well as assignment travel, annual leave, full integration in the UN security framework (including residential security reimbursements).

UN Volunteers are paid Daily Subsistence Allowance at the UN rate for official travels, flight tickets for periodic home visit and for the final repatriation travel (if applicable). Resettlement allowance is paid for satisfactory service at the end of the assignment.

UNV will provide, together with the offer of assignment, a copy of the Conditions of Service, including Code of conduct, to the successful candidate.

Supervision, induction and duty of care of UN Volunteers

UN Volunteers should be provided equal duty of care as extended to all host entity personnel. Host entity support to the UN Volunteer includes, but is not limited to:

- Introductory briefings about the organisation and office-related context including security, emergency procedures, good cultural practice and orientation to the local environment;

- Support with arrival administration including setting-up of bank accounts, residence permit applications and completion of other official processes as required by the host government or host entity;

- Structured guidance, mentoring and coaching by a supervisor including a clear workplan and performance appraisal;

- Access to office space, equipment, IT support and any other systems and tools required to complete the objectives of the assignment including a host entity email address;

- Access to shared host entity corporate knowledge, training and learning;

- Inclusion of the volunteer in emergency procedures such as evacuations;

- Leave management;

- DSA for official travel, when applicable;

- All changes in the Description of Assignment occurring between recruitment and arrival or during the assignment need to be formalized with the United Nations Volunteer Programme.
