UN VOLUNTEER DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENT
THAR000356--Regional Global Adaptation Network (GAN) Liaison

The United Nations Volunteers (UNV) programme is the UN organization that promotes volunteerism to support peace and development worldwide. Volunteerism can transform the pace and nature of development and it benefits both society at large and the individual volunteer. UNV contributes to peace and development by advocating for volunteerism globally, encouraging partners to integrate volunteerism into development programming, and mobilizing volunteers. In most cultures, volunteerism is deeply embedded in long-established, ancient traditions of sharing and support within the communities. In this context, UN Volunteers take part in various forms of volunteerism and play a role in development and peace together with co-workers, host agencies and local communities. In all assignments, UN Volunteers promote volunteerism through their action and conduct. Engaging in volunteer activity can effectively and positively enrich their understanding of local and social realities, as well as create a bridge between themselves and the people in their host community. This will make the time they spend as UN Volunteers even more rewarding and productive.

General Information

Country of Assignment: Thailand
Host Institute: United Nations Environment Programme
Volunteer Category: International Specialist
Number of Volunteer: 1
Duration: until 31-08-2021
Possibility of Extension: Yes
Expected Starting Date: 01-09-2020
Duty Station: Bangkok [THA]
Assignment Place: Family Duty Station

Assignment Place Remark
- This is one of the three identical assignments based respectively at the Nairobi, Panama and Bangkok duty stations.
- This assignment will be based at Bangkok Duty Station.

Living Conditions

The duty station for this assignment is Bangkok.

Bangkok allowed basic living needs, including accommodation, banking facilities, medical facilities and telecommunications/internet services are readily available. All staple foods can be found in the markets, e.g: rice, meat, vegetables, fruit, cooking oil, salt, etc. Many imported goods are available in Bangkok and other places throughout Thailand. Bangkok has many good restaurants with good health standards and most guesthouses provide food. In Thailand, the most used means of transportation are taxi or local bus (and, in Bangkok, the elevated train service). Mobile phone is the most dependable tool to be in-touch with colleagues and friends. Internet service is readily available and affordable at most apartment complexes. ATMs are everywhere in Thailand and Western cards can... usually be used to withdraw Thai Baht.

For those with children, schooling options in Bangkok are to be well evaluated and determined before taking your children at duty station. School fees and area really depends on your preferences. Admission fee for school in Thailand ranges from $3,000 - $9,000 and tuition fee from $5,500 - $25,533 (per annum). Depending on educational quality and the area which comes with price tags, you may need to explore more on schools to find out what they could offer that serves the needs of your children. No specific allocation is available for schooling and Volunteers will need to bare the entire costs.

As this is an international UN Volunteer assignment, the UN Volunteer will be responsible for arranging his/her own housing and other living essentials. International UN Volunteers are part of the insurance plan. Living conditions vary according to duty station – Nairobi, Panama City or Bangkok.

Assignment Details

Assignment Title
Regional Global Adaptation Network (GAN) Liaison

Organizational Context & Project Description

The UN Environment Programme (UNEP) is the leading global environmental authority that sets the global environmental agenda, promotes the coherent implementation of the environmental dimension of sustainable development within the United Nations system and serves as an authoritative advocate for the global environment. UNEP’s Ecosystems Division works with international and national partners, providing technical assistance and advisory services for the implementation of environmental policy, and strengthening the environmental management capacity of developing countries and countries with economies in transition.

Within the Ecosystems Division, the Climate Change Adaptation Unit (CCAU) works to meet the mandate given by Member States to UNEP to help countries address climate change and to support vulnerable countries in transitioning from urgent and immediate adaptation responses to medium and long-term national adaptation plans that integrate Ecosystem-based Adaptation (EbA). Underscoring the importance of this mandate, the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development provides an excellent global policy framework to address climate change adaptation and EbA issues over the next years, compounded by a recent increased focus on focusing on nature-based solutions and increasing the resilience of vulnerable populations to withstand climate and other shocks.

To carry out this work, the CCAU manages a range of adaptation projects around the world, helps to coordinate adaptation work across UNEP and also provides the Secretariat for the Global Adaptation Network (GAN), https://www.unenvironment.org/gan/. The work of the GAN is to facilitate the exchange of information and knowledge about adaptation and it works through a series of partners and regional platforms.

To strengthen the work of adaptation and EbA around the world, Germany has recently launched a Global EbA Fund which will be co-implemented by UNEP and IUCN. This will require and facilitate UNEP to draw upon its internal and external resources to help support and implement the Fund.

This is one of the three new exciting international UNV posts to be within the GAN Secretariat and based respectively at the Nairobi, Panama and Bangkok duty stations. These will be intended to support UNEP’s African, Latin American and Asian adaptation networks and liaise with partners to support information exchange, gather best practices and knowledge, to strengthen GAN and support the new Global EbA Fund.

Sustainable Development Goals
13. Climate Action

Task description

Within the delegated authority and under the direct supervision of the GAN Coordinator and with a second reporting line to Regional Climate Change Coordinator in the respective region or to his/her designated mandated representative(s), the UNV Regional GAN Liaison will be:

- Supporting 3 regional networks of GAN in their respective regional headquarters i.e. Nairobi, Panama and Bangkok (Africa: EbafoSA / AAKeNet; Latin America: Regatta; and Asia Pacific: APAN)
- Liaising and reaching out to other actors and networks in the region to strengthen and expand the regional presence of GAN
Qualifications/Requirements

- Keeping abreast of adaptation events in the region and exploring opportunities for GAN to connect/support
- Creating and updating contact lists for the regional networks to share and cross-fertilize with GAN’s networks; building a database of regional adaptation contacts, organizations, companies, and prestigious experts along with their areas of expertise. This is also including mapping out these organizations and experts, along with the linkages between them.
- Making regular contact with leading adaptation experts including in the private sector, and keeping abreast / discovering what they’re working on, interest and expertise (for potential involvement in projects, publications, sessions, webinars)
- Supporting bi-directional connections between regional networks and GAN (exploring ways for GAN to work to support and connect the regions)
- Developing surveys, conducting research and outreach to gather information, evidence, synthesize knowledge and create case studies from regional adaptation work including projects in the regions on best practices, barriers to EbA adoption and uptake, for feeding into the Global EbA Fund, UNEP normative work and global processes including UNFCCC
- Creating content in the form of articles, stories, op-eds or other for bimonthly GAN and/or regional network newsletters, websites or reports
- Supporting and organizing virtual or in-person adaptation events, webinars, seminars or sessions
- Gathering information on regional adaptation reading to feed into regular GAN reading lists Developing reports on latest activities of updating GAN’s regional networks and partners on GAN’s latest activities
- Stocktake initiatives, activities and adaptation tools and resources (e.g. webinars, publications and guidelines) carried out/developed by the regional networks such as APAN, Regatta and AAAKNet and create the linkage between them to enhance the coordination of global adaptation efforts across regional networks, and feed the information from stocktaking into GAN knowledge platform
- Any other related tasks as may be required or assigned by the supervisor.

Furthermore, UN Volunteers are required to:– Strengthen their knowledge and understanding of the concept of volunteerism by reading relevant UNV and external publications and take active part in UNV activities (for instance in events that mark International Volunteer Day)- Be acquainted with and build on traditional and/or local forms of volunteerism in the host country- Provide annual and end of assignment reports on UN Volunteer actions, results and opportunities using UNV’s Volunteer Reporting Application- Contribute articles/write-ups on field experiences and submit them for UNV publications/websites, newsletters, press releases, etc.- Assist with the UNV Buddy Programme for newly-arrived UN Volunteers- Promote or advise local groups in the use of online volunteering, or encourage relevant local individuals and organizations to use the UNV Online Volunteering service whenever technically possible.

Qualifications/Requirements
Conditions of Service and other information
Conditions of Service for International Specialist:

The rapidly changing nature of novel coronavirus COVID-19 has placed significant and increasing restrictions on the freedom of movement of people across the globe, within countries and across borders. Such restrictions make it very difficult for international UN Volunteers to begin their assignments at their assigned duty station and UNV cannot guarantee assignments will proceed as normal.

Candidates for international UN Volunteer assignments during this period may be exceptionally granted alternative working arrangements to work from their place of recruitment until restrictions are lifted. This is at the discretion of the host entity. Candidates proceeding to interview are recommended to discuss the likelihood of travel and possible alternative arrangements with the host entity. If selected, candidates should carefully consider the circumstances before accepting UNV’s offer.

In cases where the UN Host Entity partner has requested the UN Volunteer to perform their assignment remotely, the Post Adjustment Multiplier (PAM) and related entitlements to be paid may be adjusted to the temporary duty station from where the UN Volunteer has been requested to work if requested by the UN Host Entity.

The contract lasts for the period indicated above with possibility of extensions subject to availability of funding, operational necessity and satisfactory performance. However, there is no expectation of renewal of the assignment.

A UN Volunteer receives a Volunteer Living Allowance (VLA) which is composed of the Monthly Living Allowance (MLA) and a Family Allowance (FA) for those with dependents (maximum three).

The Volunteer Living Allowance (VLA) is paid at the end of each month to cover housing, utilities, transportation, communications and other basic needs. The VLA can be computed by applying the Post-Adjustment Multiplier (PAM) to the VLA base rate of US$ 1,651. The VLA base rate is a global rate across the world, while the PAM is duty station/country-specific and fluctuates on a monthly basis according to the cost of living. This method ensures that international UN Volunteers have comparable purchasing power at all duty stations irrespective of varying costs of living. The PAM is established by the International Civil Service Commission (ICSC) and is published at the beginning of every month on the ICSC website http://icsc.un.org.

For UN Volunteer entitlements, kindly refer to the link https://vmam.unv.org/calculator/entitlements
In non-family duty stations that belong to hardship categories D or E, as classified by the ICSC, international UN Volunteers receive a Well-Being Differential (WBD) on a monthly basis.

Furthermore, UN Volunteers are provided a settling-in-grant (SIG) at the start of the assignment (if the volunteer did not reside in the duty station for at least 6 months prior to taking up the assignment) and in the event of a permanent reassignment to another duty station.

UNV provides life, health, permanent disability insurances as well as assignment travel, annual leave, full integration in the UN security framework (including residential security reimbursements).

UN Volunteers are paid Daily Subsistence Allowance at the UN rate for official travels, flight tickets for periodic home visit and for the final repatriation travel (if applicable). Resettlement allowance is paid for satisfactory service at the end of the assignment.

UNV will provide, together with the offer of assignment, a copy of the Conditions of Service, including Code of conduct, to the successful candidate.

Supervision, induction and duty of care of UN Volunteers

UN Volunteers should be provided equal duty of care as extended to all host entity personnel. Host entity support to the UN Volunteer includes, but is not limited to:

- Introductory briefings about the organisation and office-related context including security, emergency procedures, good cultural practice and orientation to the local environment;

- Support with arrival administration including setting-up of bank accounts, residence permit applications and completion of other official processes as required by the host government or host entity;

- Structured guidance, mentoring and coaching by a supervisor including a clear workplan and performance appraisal;

- Access to office space, equipment, IT support and any other systems and tools required to complete the objectives of the assignment including a host entity email address;

- Access to shared host entity corporate knowledge, training and learning;

- Inclusion of the volunteer in emergency procedures such as evacuations;

- Leave management;

- DSA for official travel, when applicable;

- All changes in the Description of Assignment occurring between recruitment and arrival or during the assignment need to be formalized with the United Nations Volunteer Programme.
