UN VOLUNTEER DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENT

VNMR000079--Healthy Ageing Specialist

The United Nations Volunteers (UNV) programme is the UN organization that promotes volunteerism to support peace and development worldwide. Volunteerism can transform the pace and nature of development and it benefits both society at large and the individual volunteer. UNV contributes to peace and development by advocating for volunteerism globally, encouraging partners to integrate volunteerism into development programming, and mobilizing volunteers. In most cultures, volunteerism is deeply embedded in long-established, ancient traditions of sharing and support within the communities. In this context, UN Volunteers take part in various forms of volunteerism and play a role in development and peace together with co-workers, host agencies and local communities. In all assignments, UN Volunteers promote volunteerism through their action and conduct. Engaging in volunteer activity can effectively and positively enrich their understanding of local and social realities, as well as create a bridge between themselves and the people in their host community. This will make the time they spend as UN Volunteers even more rewarding and productive.

Assignment Place Remark

Living Conditions

Viet Nam is a middle-income country which has witnessed rapid economic growth with impressive results in poverty reduction over the past twenty-five years. The country has deepened its integration into global and regional institutions such as the WTO, the UN institutions and ASEAN it will chair in 2020. Its current path of development is guided by the Socio-Economic Development Strategy from 2011-2020 which was endorsed at the 11th Communist Party Congress in 2011. The new Strategy for 2021-2030 is being developed.

The incumbent will live in Ha Noi which has economic and social amenities at a reasonable cost. Ha Noi has a humid, tropical climate and monsoons. Summers, between May and September, are very hot with plenty of rain, while winters, from November to March, are cold and relatively dry. Living conditions in Hanoi are relatively good by developing countries’ standards. In line with further improvements in the availability of goods and services, health facilities, and housing, the level of hardship in the duty station has been upgraded from C to B since a few years. Security is also reasonably good relative to other developing countries large cities. Viet Nam was recently ranked as one of the more secure and stable places to live and do business by outside research groups. Ha Noi, and more generally Viet Nam, also offer multiple opportunities for historical and local cultural learning, sport and other leisure activities and social networking.
 Assignment Title

Healthy Ageing Specialist

Organizational Context & Project Description

The World Health Organization (WHO) was established on 7 April 1948 as the directing and coordinating authority in global public health within the United Nations system. The objectives of WHO is the attainment by all peoples of the highest possible level of health. Missions of WHO are to promote health, keep the world safe and serve the vulnerable.

Viet Nam has been a WHO Member State since 17 May 1950. WHO established a country office in Viet Nam in 1977. WHO’s work in Viet Nam is based on the country’s need for support in implementing its national health policies, strategies and plans (NHPSP) to address key health issues and fulfil its commitment to the WHO Constitution and other international health laws and treaties.

In Vietnam, the National Association of Older People was established in 1994, then the first Law on older people was endorsed by the National Assembly in 2009 which had laid down fundamental rights of older people and the roles of the government, family, and society as a whole, in protecting and ensuring well-being of older people. Following the law, a number of policies have been issued such as the Law on Social Health Insurance (2014), the National Action Plan on Health Care of Older People in 2016, which further guide the Ministry of Health and related sectors to implement and address the needs of older people, at provincial and community level. In health, the Ministry of Health (MOH) and Ministry of Labor, Invalids, and Social Assistance (MOLISA) works to expand social assistance and social health insurance coverage among the older, strengthen health care of older people at both primary care and hospital care level. WHO has been working with the MOH and other development partners in capacity building for institutions and key officers in major areas of support to older people. In the past years, WHO supported training workshops to policy makers in major areas such as long term care (in 2018), WHO framework on integrated care for older people (ICOPE), and Age Friendly Cities and Communities (in 2019). For the years 2020-21, the Ministry of Health of Viet Nam requested WHO’s support in development of a new master plan for health care of older people, for the next decade, from 2021 to 2030; as well as launch of the ICOPE training to primary health care workers and initiation of a model for age-friendly city and environment.
